A Social Enterprise of Search Since 2006

Glidepath is a unique curriculum developed by Search, Inc. Glidepath offers meaningful, structured programming to meet the needs and preferences of individuals with a wide range of intellectual disabilities, from mild to profound.

The curriculum is comprised of a large and growing library of over 140 modules. Each module contains twelve 45-minute sessions (nine hours of total content). Module sessions focus on a specific theme or related set of skills and are packed with enjoyable and instructive activities that help individuals fully explore each topic.

Module topics include creative arts, health and wellness, personal development, sensory integration, community integration, work skills and skills for life. Over 25 community outing guides provide creative ideas for accessing community activities and connecting them back to classroom instruction.

Glidepath Curriculum and staff training services are available for purchase by agencies that are interested in providing consistent and engaging program activities where participants are exposed to new information and experiences throughout the day. The Glidepath Curriculum reaches over 1,000 individuals daily in program locations across Illinois.

“With the modules and the community outings at day training, my son receives a range of services at Search that he wouldn’t get anywhere else.”
